I am a classically trained artist whose love of art brought me to Florence, Italy in 2005. For a year I studied art history and the Italian language. Upon my return, my fondness of Italian culture, food and coffee led me to work in Italian restaurant, bar and café establishments throughout Portland. In the process, I have gained considerable knowledge of wine, food and coffee alike. My background is in Italian fine dining and coffee but I am a quick learner and can adapt to any restaurant or other work environment easily.
